Florida Institute of CPAs (FICPA) Scholarships - Panama City campus only

The Florida Institute of CPAs (FICPA) Educational Foundation has allocated three $2,000 scholarships for Florida State University Panama City campus students with real financial need. Undergraduate accounting majors and Master of Accounting students are eligible to apply. Applicants must meet the requirements below.

Eligibility Requirements:

The applicant shall be a U.S. citizen or hold permanent residency status. The applicant shall be a Florida resident and considered a Florida resident for tuition purposes. If the applicant is not classified as a Florida resident for tuition purposes he/she must provide proof of residency, i.e., proclamation of domicile, along with their completed application materials;

- The granting of scholarships shall be on the basis of educational achievement, financial need, and demonstrated professional, social and charitable activities;
- Upon completing school, the applicant should be expecting to work in the field of accounting (as opposed to some other discipline), planning to sit for the CPA exam (and working toward completing those requirements) and planning to work in the State of Florida (as opposed to some other geographical location);
- The applicant should have completed at least the junior year by the end of the summer semester following the spring application period;
- The applicant should be an accounting student (undergraduate or master's) on FSU's Panama City campus during the fall semester following the spring application period. The $2,000 scholarships are intended for full-time students. However, students taking at least six hours will be considered for a $1,000 scholarship;
- Must have an accounting GPA of at least 3.00 based only on 3000, 4000 and 5000 level accounting courses taken (i.e. ACG and TAX prefixes); and
- Must have an overall GPA of at least 3.00.

Additional information and an application are available online . Completed applications and related materials are due in the Department of Accounting Office by the application deadline.

scholarship. Students should not apply if they have a career field other than accounting. The applicant must be planning to sit for the CPA exam and be working towards fulfilling those requirements. Students should indicate a desire to practice in the field of accounting as opposed to other disciplines and must indicate a desire to work in Florida. Candidates for scholarships shall be citizens of the United States or hold permanent residency status and shall be Florida residents.

- Although it is intended that applicants will primarily be full-time students (based on the requirements of the school they are attending), students taking a minimum of six credit hours will be considered. A full scholarship will be awarded to full-time students and a one-half scholarship will be awarded to part-time students.
- The granting of scholarships shall be on a basis of educational achievement, financial need, and demonstrated professional, social, and charitable activities. The Trustees recognize that need can vary dependent upon significant factors including geographical considerations, work-place conditions, current employment, dependents, other obligations of the student, and parental support or lack thereof. The Trustees request faculty committees be cognizant of the limited resources of the Foundation and the desire of the Foundation to assist students who are deserving and needy.
